Fire Threatens Destruction of News Plant

Fire of unknown origin was discovered in the plant of the Monessen News Saturday evening about 5:30 o'clock and prompt action on the part of the volunteer fire department, saved what would have resulted in a very destructive fire.

The office had just been closed for the day half an hour when the department was called out. The fire started under the newspaper press in or about a waste basket and soon spread to the machine, burning off the delivery board and making rapid progress through the plant. However it had not taken hold of the building and was soon extinguished by the use of chemicals and before any great damage was done. Mr. Schuck, the proprietor, feels that he was fortunate that there was no greater loss and upon investigation he says the damage to the press is very nominal. Great credit is due our fire department not only for the usual quick response, but for the good judgment displayed in keeping the loss to the minimum.

The fire was discovered by Mr. A. F. Beck, who resides upstairs in the building. The smell of smoke aroused his suspicion and he went down stairs to investigat and he saw the flames and gave the alarm. When the department arrived he offered suggestions that aided very greatly in the quick service they performed. Mr. Beck has been a resident of the town a very short time, but spent ten years of his life as a city fireman and he is loud in his praise of the Monessen department. He said that every suggestion he offered was acted upon, and that the town is fortunate to have men who are so responsive to reason and who try hard to save the property during the excitement at a time of fire. It was his first experience to observe the work of our department.

The End of a Perfect Day

Many Cases Before Burgess This Morning

Twenty five prisoners who faced Burgess Stewart this morning paid fines aggregating nearly $200.00 for various violations of the borough laws over the week end. The greater number of these appearing before his Honor this morning were arrested for gambling. Police conducted two raids on alleged gamblers, the first being in the basement of a coffee house at Ninth and Schoonmaker Saturday night when ten prisoners were taken in tow. The men admited their guilt and paid fines of $5.00 and costs each, while the man who ran the game paid $15.00 and costs and the owner of the building $25.00 and costs.

Another quiet game just in the making was nipped in the bud by the police when they entered a club at 1408 Schoonmaker avenue early yesterday afternoon. Seven colored men had gained admittance to the club and had just settled down around a table when the officers entered and placed all under arrest. The Burgess let them off with payment of a fine of $3.00 and costs.

Four persons arrested for being drunk and disorderly paid fines of $3.00 and costs, while two colored men who had an argument over a pool game which ended in a street fight, paid fines of $3.00 and costs.

Lillian Spencer, a colored lass with a wicked tongue, started to tell the populace what she thought of them ,but a policeman interferred and she landed in the police station. She failed to put in her appearance for a hearing this morning and forfeited $15.00.

Adam Bonigan, address unknown, gave a midnight demonstration of the engine of his Ford to the displeasure of those who were attempting to get in a few hours beauty sleep. The noise also brought forth a policeman who placed Adam under arrest and he left $15.00 at the police station for which he failed to call this morning.

MESSENGER ATTACKED BY BANDITS

(By United Press)

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 13—Three bandits made their escape with $8,200 after knocking Wilson McAuley, a messenger of the Citizen's Deposit & Trust company of Sharpsburg unconscious with a blackjack. McAuley had the money in a satchel and was awaiting a street car at 66th street when he was approached from behind and knocked unconscious by one of the men who grabbed the satchel and jumping into the waiting automobile the trio made their escape. The bold daylight robbery was witnessed by a number of persons who gave chase but the bandits made their escape after changing automobiles in Highland park. The satchel was later recovered with checks intact but with the money missing.

To Continue Strike

(By United Press)

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 13—Indication point to a continuation of the "Outlaw" strike which has seriously crippied railroad transportation for many months according to a statement of H. E. Reading, president of the United Engineer's Association. The official stated that the men were voting all over the country today to stay out or return and the vote so far favored a fight to the finish. The hitter-emers were leading the conservatives by 1,000.

INJURED BY FALL FROM AUTO TRUCK

Frank Iannone of Belle Vernon, narrowly escaped fatal injuries Saturday afternoon when his foot slipped while trying to get on a truck, while it was going. Mr. Iannone had just finished his day's work, and had started to walk up Schoonmaker avenue toward the Monessen bridge, and when near the Victoria hotel, one of Kosin's coal trucks came along at a fast rate of speed. Mr. Iannone tried to jump on the running board of the truck ,but instead he stepped on the Presto tank which was fastened on the running board, thereby causing his foot to slip.

The driver of the truck tried to hold him on with one hand but was unable to do so. The man fell to the ground, being dragged several feet, by the heavy truck. The truck was stopped and Mr. Iannone was picked up and first aid given at the Pittsburgh Steel Products hospital, where it was found his leg had been badly fractured and he was suffering from bruises about the body. Later he was taken to the Charleroi hospital.

Man Electrocuted

Peter Bianchi, aged 50 years, a well known resident of Monongahela, was almost instantly killed Saturday afternoon when he took hold of a fallen electric wire. The accident happened on Second street, Monongahela, shortly after the noon hour. The wire had broken and was lying on the ground and pedestrians warned others of the danger. Mr. Bianchi stated that he could remove the dangerous wire with the use of a handkerchief, and despite the warnings of others, he grabbed the wire with both hands and was knocked to the ground by the high voltage which burned his hands to a crisp. He was taken to a nearby office and given first aid but died within a few moments.

New Messenger

Beginning this week Monessen will enjoy a new messenger service to Pittsburgh. Guy Mori having decided to start this service two days of each week, making a trip each Tuesday and Friday between this city and Pittsburgh until such a time as the increased business will permit him to make daily trips. He has established headquarters at the Acme Storage Battery store on Donner avenue and also at 325 Schoonmaker avenue, where he can be

THREE PEOPLE VICTIMS OF RAVAGES OF MAD DOG WHICH WAS FINALLY SHOT

A dog supposed to be afflicted with rabies broke loose last night about 9 o'clock and cut some high capers before he was finally run down and shot. After he had bitten the six year old son of Frank Janino on Chestnut street, he attacked the seven year old son of Tony Beveno, and after biting him, passed on along the street. Neighbors communicated the news to the police department and Officer Raphael rushed to the scene to discover the dog making his way toward the center of town. The officer fired several shots and evidently got into a veritable mixup with the canine and was unfortunate enough to suffer a bite.

The dog made his way to McKee avenue and was closely pursued by Mr. Raphael, who after firing several shots finally succeeded in killing the dog, after trailing him to the corner of McKee and Fourth.

The matter was reported to Dr. D. C. Farquhar, and the head of the canine was removed and taken to Mercy hospital, Pittsburgh, for examination. The officer accompanied the physician and if it is revealed that the dog was suffering from rabies, arrangements will be made to have the victims properly treated.

Nearing the End

(By United Press)

London, Sept. 13—Seven of the 11 hunger striking Sinn Fein prisoners in Cork have collapsed and one is reported to be dying, according to a dispatch to the Daily News today. They have been without food for 31 days.

The whole tramway service in Dublin was suspended for two hours Saturday while the car men attended masses for Lord Mayor MacSwiney, according to advices here.

Two hundred prisoners of the royal Irish constabulary in Cork were said to have adopted resolutions urging MacSwiney's release.

MacSwiney Still Lives

(By United Press)

London September 13—Lord Mayor MacSwiney was still alive this morning, but he was in a state of collapse, according to a bulletin issued today. The hunger-striking mayor was said to have spent a bad night.

"The Lord Mayor of Cork had a bad, restless night," said the announcement. "He is in a state of collapse and exhaustion."

SUMMON PARLIAMENT

(By United Press)

London, Sept. 13—The Daily Mail today urged the summoning of parliament as soon as possible to consider vital questions arising from the situation in Ireland and Mesopotamia and the threatened coal strike in Great Britain.

Investigate Death

(By United Press)

Paris, September 13—An autopsy was to be held today to decide the exact cause of the death of Olive Thomas American motion picture actress. If the examining surgeons agree that she died from the effects of accidentally drinking mercury, a permit will be issued for her body to be shipped to the United States.

Jack Pickford, husband of the actress, has left Paris. He went to London in an airplane, accompanied by Owen Moore, one of the party of motion picture people which was seeing the sights of Paris together. It was understood that Pickford would return here on Wednesday.

The authorities are virtually satisfied that Miss Thomas did not intentionally commit suicide, it was learned today. The next step is to decide finally whether the whole affair was an accident.

Pickford, in making a sworn statement, said that he and his wife returned to their hotel, the Ritz, exceedingly weary from a night of celebration. They had made a complete round of the gay Mont Marte cafes, he said.

Pickford had already gone to bed when he heard a cry for help and running to the bath room, found his wife with a bottle of poison at her feet. She was unable to speak on account of her throat having been burned. Pickford said Miss Thomas was given antidotes, then hurried to the hospital where she made an attempt to recover.

"She did not want to die," he insisted.

As soon as the formal is granted for removal of the body, it will be shipped to New York, where the funeral services are to be held.

Shot From Ambush

(By United Press)

Erie, Pa., Sept. 13—As he stepped from a christening party at a friend's home, Louis Romano, aged 28, an Italian of this city, was shot six times and almost instantly killed at midnight and his bleeding body discovered half a minute later by a child. Although the murder was discovered immediately after the shots were fired, no trace of the murderer was found and the police have as yet no clues to work on. It is believed, however that the shooting was done by someone in an automobile. One of the six bullets penetrated Romano's heart.

Dramatic Death

(By United Press)

Chicago, Sept. 13—Investigation into the death of Mrs. Anna Mitchell Jones, formerly a New York portrait painter, and wife of John Jones, president of Chicago's dill pickle club, was being made today following her drowning in Lake Michigan late yesterday.

Jones and his wife were on their honeymoon, when, according to his story, she was washed overboard after he had chained her to the craft. They were married last August, after Elizabeth Gurley Flynn divorced Jones.

A dramatic account of the accident was given by Jones when rescued last night. He said he had rushed the boy three times after it had been swept by waves. He said he burned clothes in an attempt to attract attention.

SHOT GIRL THEN KILLS HIMSELF

(By United Press)

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept 13—William Brooks, a butcher of Valencia was found dead having committed suicide and Miss Jane Walker, age 19, a telephone operator is a patient in a local hospital with two bullet wounds which she alleges were inflicted by Brooks when she refused to accept his marriage proposal while on an auto ride last night. Brooks was found sitting upright in his auto along the road between Butler and Chicora, while Miss Walker was found lying along the roadside having jumped from the machine after being shot by the enraged man.

Sneak Thieves Active

Sneak thieves are again active in Monessen. On Saturday night they raided the refrigerator at the home of C. H. Dils, the real estate man, on McKee avenue, taking the Sunday supply of meat, eggs, butter, lard and everything eatable. Mr. Dils says he will gladly donate the meat and supplies this time if the thief or thieves will let him know next time so that he may prepare a proper welcome.

Enroll Teachers

Efforts to enroll all of the 42,000 teachers in Pennsylvania in the State Educational Association were outlined at Harrisburg yesterday by Dr. W. G. Chambers of Pittsburgh, president of the association, in an address to teachers of the Harrisburg district. Dr. Chambers said the enrollment was now over 30,000 and under the new constitution, which will be submitted at the annual meeting in December, it will be possible to hold district conventions. Dr. W. H. Davidson, superintendent of schools of Pittsburgh, and J. H. Adams of Pittsburgh, and E. S. Lohman of Shippensburg, also addressed the Harrisburg teachers.

BABE RUTH HERE

Although 25,000 rapid fans had paid Forbes Field Wednesday to get a glimpse of "Babe" Ruth, this is only a handful compared to the thousands who are anxious to get a glimpse of the king of swatters, and in view of this fact, the Olympic theatre management has secured a two thousand foot reel of the star in action as a feature picture for today. All fans, young and old, will no doubt visit the theatre this day to see the great hambino who has made his name a household word owing to his superior ability as a home run hitter in the great national game.

MYSTERY SURROUNDS SHOOTING

County detectives and the coroner's office yesterday investigated the killing Saturday night of John S. Foster, a coal miner of Bunola, by James Rue, a constable of Forward township, during an alleged attack on the constable and his wife, who were motoring on a lonely road between Monongahela and Elizabeth, according to Rue, grabbed Mrs. Rue while the constable was battling with two other men, who escaped. After the probe Rue was arrested yesterday and released on $5,000 bail.

He told detectives two men stopped him, saying there was a wreck in the middle of the road. Suddenly one of them struck Rue in the face he said, and he got out of the car to give battle. While fighting with the two men he heard his wife scream and saw her struggling with a third man. Running to her, he says he struck the man with his flashlight, then drew his revolver and struck him on the head twice. At a second blow the revolver was accidentally discharged and a bullet passed through the man's left arm.

Rue started to a doctor's office, but the man died on the way to Monongahela, where he was recognized as Foster. He leaves a widow and three children.

Dancing Prohibited

Dancing at the Summit hotel above Uniontown is a thing of the past. Manager Heyn having announced that in the future all will be quiet and serene at the famous mountain resort. During the past season lovers of the light fantastic flocked to the hotel where they enjoyed dancing to the strains of well known jazz orchestras. Had the guests confined themselves to dancing, it is probable that the pastime would still be in vogue, but the week ends were marked with parties who came well stocked with beverages stronger than 2.75 and hotel guests complained of the noise and antics of the dancers, and the management was forced to announce the end of the dancing season. The hostelry will remain open until October 15, but in the meantime both music and dancing will be barred and all promises to be quiet and tranquil in the remaining days of the season.

The Christian church choirs will hold its annual corn roast Tuesday evening on the farm of Rev. Ramage, near the Rehoboth church. This event is looked forward to by every member of the choir, as it is the one big treat of the year. The trip will be made by auto and all members are requested to meet at the church at 7:15 p. m.

NEW ORDER NOT DESIRABLE

The doctrine of the "new economic order" is being preached far and wide these days, but it is doubtful if any two of the persons who are engaged in the propaganda of radicalism can agree on what they mean by the "new order." There never has been a time in the history of the world when conditions were ideal, and it is doubtful if that time will ever come. There are undesirable conditions to be overcome, but experience shows that enduring progress comes through evolution, not revolution. Teachers of communism prate a great deal about the benefits that will come to the common people through adoption of their creed, but they are careful to avoid mention of Russia, which is the one great country in which the bolshevist system is in control. The results do not speak well for it.

There are morals in economics, and any system that includes the confiscation, or appropriation without compensation, of the property of others is so opposed to a sense of right that it cannot be entertained by persons who have the least spark of honesty in their makeup. Either ignorance or rank dishonesty is back of the movement of communism, or the holding of property in common, and it is probable that both are involved. The system was abandoned 2,000 years ago by a body of men and women in the first Christian church, and it is not changed in character when advocated by groups of unscrupulous men today.

Mankind has made a great progress in the last century, and there is reason to believe that greater achievements lie just ahead. They will not come about by destroying what has already been built and substituting an uncertain and vague thing called the "new order."

THE HAREM DISAPPEARING

Too true it seems that the loaf of bread rules the world, breaks up customs of centuries and prejudices so old that they are lost in the midst of the past. It is natural for us to have a romantic feeling for old customs, no matter how much better we may acknowledge the new to be.

So it is with mingled feelings that we read in dispatche from Constantinople how the war and the following economic conditions have affected the women of Turkey, who are said now, instead of languishing in harems, beautify themselves and feeding on Turkish delight, to have thrown away their veils, donned shirtwaists and short skirts and to be serving as saleswomen in stores, as telephone girls, as cashiers, janitors, street sweepers and even as car conductors.

The need of women as nurses in the Turkish army is said to have been the means of first opening the harem door for the women of Turkey, and once opened, it seems to be open for good. Turkish men are no longer able to support a variety of wives as they used to do, and so more and more women are obliged to earn their own livings. Only among the poor, and the women on farms do conditions for the women of Turkey remain much as before, for the poor women as well as the women in the country have always worked, as they have done in all countries.

HIS BOY DID NOT COME BACK

"He had been ailing since his son was killed in action in France."

The foregoing words, forming part of the obituary of a father who passed away the other day, serve as a reminder that, although the war ended nearly two years ago, parents and other kin have not ceased to sorrow for the boy who died far from home and those he loved. It is one of the cruel penalties of warfare that the bullet which ends the life of the soldier also inflicts lasting wounds in hearts back home. These wounded may not show their suffering in their faces or in conversation, but grief abides with them, and, like the father who just passed away, they go sadly all their days.

Presumably this father had been looking forward to the day when the mortal part of the beloved son would be brought back for burial in the home land; but the prolonged sorrow and suspense proved too severe for his strength and he too, fell a victim of the war and gave up his life for his country.

There are many thousands of other mourning parents who have been watching for the messenger with tidings that the one mourned is at last homeward bound, and for their sake it is to be hoped that the work of returning the soldier dead to the home land will be expedited with all possible speed. That is the only consolation for those who sorrow.

EDITORALETTES

Pearl White Tues.& Wed.

When the mammouth studio of Fox Film Corportaion, the largest of its kind in the world, was opened on West 55th Street, New York, the first star to make use of it was the famous Pearl White. The studio occupies an entire floor in the immense new Fox building, which has been described as "the film city," two minutes from Broadway."

Miss White was in the midst of staging the much-talked-of drama of the underworld. "The White Moll" from the pen of Frank Packard, author of "The Miracle Man", when the studio was opened. All her "sets" were moved and the finishing touches were given to the extraordinary production under the new roof.

"The White Moll", a special production, the scenario for which was written by E. Lloyd Sheldon, abounds intense situations and moments of supreme excitement. It will be at the Olympic theatre Tuesday and Wednesday. 1t

OHIOAN ESCAPES TORTURE BY TIMELY DISCOVERY

Lon Tucker, Steubenville, Gains Speedy Relief From Sufferings by Taking Reese Formula R-11, the Great Stomach, Liver and Kidney Tonic.

Timely discovery of Reese Formula R-11 enabled Lon Tucker, 330 North Street, Steubenville, Ohio, to escape further sufferings from stomach trouble, indigestion, pains about the heart, and extreme nervousness night and day.

Mr. Tucker, who is a member of the Loyal Order of Moose and Junior Order of American Mechanics, writes:

"It was impossible for me to eat regularly when I read a testimonial telling of Reese Formula R-11. I was very near 'all in' and had no strength or energy to speak of. Life seemed a burden both night and day. I could get no rest or sleep and would awaken from the most horrible and frightful dreams.

"I could not sit through a show, as sitting seemed to aggravate the pains around my heart and stomach.

"The first relief came to me after taking the fifth dose of Reese Formula R-11, and from thereon to the present time I have had decided relief every day. My whole life seems brighter and now worth living, while before it was simply a drag on my wife and family. I am only too glad to tell sufferers of the wonderful good one bottle of Reese Formula R-11 has done for me."

The Reese Formula R-11 means quick and positive relief for indigestion, nervousness, rheumatism, headaches, stomach and kidney trouble, dizziness, female weaknesses, urinary trouble and sleeplessness.

For information about your ailments, write our Medical Adviser, care of The Reese Formula Company, Huntington, W. Va.

The Reese Formula R-11 is sold by all druggists, including:

U. S. Suffs Have Young, Virile Outlook

(By United Press)

Washington, Sept. 13--An Englishman, writer of some consequence, happened into Washington the other day while the air was full of jubilation of suffragists over ratification of the Nineteenth Amendment.

"I'd like to see what manner of women these American suffragists are," said this Englishman. "I've evolved a rather interesting psychological theory as a result of my observation of our English suffragists. I wonder if your American ones would bear it out?

So he was taken to the headquarters of the National Woman's party here, and presented to Miss Alice Paul chairman of the party.

"How do you do?" said Miss Paul, inviting him to be seated "Won't you have a candy?"

"Fancy," said the Englishman afterward. "She asked me to have a candy!"

He seemed surprised and not a little taken back. Also, he was eager to tell of what he saw and heard.

So here's his story and his impressions of American suffrage leaders, as contrasted with English ones.

"We were led into a lofty room," he said, "that seemed full of great purple masses and pale sunshine. The purple masses, one soon discovered, were pieces of furniture arranged most artistically, and all most royally empurpled with rich velvet. The pale sunshiny effect, we found, was produced by light filtering through thin golden hangings. The whole room was purple and gold and white, and it was, somehow, very imposing.

"And then we were bowing to a lady who also was enveloped in some pale sunshiny stuff like the hangings were made of. She was sitting with her back to the light in a purple chair and she waved us to other equally purple ones set cosily tete-a-tete with hers. Remark at this point that the filtered sunshine gave her a full view of her visitors' faces, while her own ws somewhat shadowed. When I observed that trifling detail I felt myself growing wary. "We have to deal" thought I, "with persons who know their way about." Trifles like tht impress one.

"Will you have a candy?" this lady invited us, extending a box of confections. I confess I was surprised. The regal appointments of the room had not prepared me for this. Quite candidly, I was flabbergasted, and I fear I stumbled somewhat as I declined the sweets.

"All the while we talked, good-looking young women kept coming in and going out, with telegrams and papers and messages, and Miss Paul quietly disposed of a good deal of routine business without interrupting the flow of conversation. You notice her poise.

"Your American suffragists, who have had as rough a fight of it in its way, as their English sisters, impressed me as quite different, in some respects. If I go making comprisons, I'll get into no end of a row, of course, but I'm tempted to chance it by just one observation. That is, that your American suffragists, take them by and large, are a deal younger--I mean in their outlook and virility and--well they're younger, somehow, and a very refreshing set of young persons.

"Just fancy, Miss Paul asked me, 'Will you have a candy?"

And he shook his head over that incomprehensibility.

A Profitable Investment

Houses not wired for electric service are not in the "all modern improvements" class.

Tenants taboo them as being inconvenient, uneconomical and unfashionable.

Landlords find them hard to rent, difficult to sell and expensive to insure.

Your friends and neighbors who own, buy, sell or rent houses, will substantiate these facts. Eliminate these drawbacks by having your houses wired.

We do the work at moderate cost and on easy terms.

Y.M.C.A. Released Yearly Report

The State Y M C A has just released its yearly report on the educational work of the local associations in Pennsylvania for tabulated figures indicate the big advance made by the Y M C A since the war. The enrollment in classes for the past year exceeded 17000, an increase of 51 per cent over the preceding year.

Even a cursory examination of the curriculum of study, reveals the wide range of "Up to the minute" vocational subjects that are offered. Among these present day studies are found such as the Income Tax, Foreign Trade, Real Estate Practice, Factory Organization and Conveyancing. In all there were eighty eight different subjects taught in these evening schools.

One of the encouraging signs in these days of unsettled interests is the increasing number of young men in the industries and in business who are asking for a chance to improve themselves by studying in night classes. One young ex-service man in referring to the advantages for self improvement given him, raised his left hand and said "I lost these fingers last spring and I have come to the conclusion that I would have to depend upon my brain rather than my muscle. I want to thank the Y M C A most sincerely for this course."

Packers Meet to Talk Production

(By United Press)

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 5.—Meat packers from all parts of the country met here today to discuss problems affecting that industry, particularly plans for increasing livestock production.

Producers are said to have been marketing cattle below the cost of production and many packers report losses in handling beef. This situation, it was feared, may result in a serious decrease in the number of food animals raised.

The meeting called by Thomas E. Wilson president of the Institute of American Meat Packers will last three days.

We spent several months examining, studying and testing scores of washing machines before deciding that the A B C was the best washer on the market and the one we could unhesitatingly recommend to our customers.

It would be suicide for us to attempt to sell a washer that would not permanently satisfy. You can realize what that would mean to us.

So you can be sure that when we say "Buy an A B C" we know whereof we speak. We realize the responsibility we assume. Now that you know where we stand on washing machines, come in and let us tell you the exclusive features of the A B C Super Electric.

We wont urge you to purchase because you must know the great amount of time labor and money that a good washing machine will save you.

Remember the A B C is America's Leading Washing Machine. It is the washer you ought to have in your home. No other will satisfy you as well as the A B C. We would like to tell you about our Free Home Demonstration and Deferred Payment Plan.

"I Want Something Good"

That about sums up the average man's clothing preferences. He has no preconceived notions as to style, and, in many cases, as to price.

He may have special leaning towards one color or another—and he may have his particular objection to one or two colors. But, outside of that, he wants "something good."

So, when we sell a man—we make it a point, without telling us, of giving him clothes that insure satisfaction. Just the kind of cut and drape to suit his peculiar "style of beauty."

GOOD APPEARANCE

—is more than style lines

—is more than fine tailoring

—is more than splendid materials

A combination of many good qualities spells good appearance.

It's the way your clothes drape and swing on your body—the way they set on your shoulders—the impression they make on others—the feeling of contentment they bring you—the knowledge that you are rightly attired, in good taste.

See our new fall models—the natural freeset shoulders, the fine designing, the fit and drape of collars and lapels, the rich fabrics, the appealing patterns and color tones; single and double breasted models.
